HSA Music Committee Discusses Piano Teachers For Lac la Biche

LAC LA BICHE — The music committee of the Home and School Association met last week to discuss the possibilities for piano teachers to meet the needs of an estimated 70 prospective students.

Mrs. Breau reported that she had been in contact with the music department of the cultural activities branch and had been told that there is a shortage of piano teachers at many points throughout the province. Mrs. Lucille Joncas, who gave lessons and supervised student teachers last year, said that 55 students was a conservative estimate of the number waiting to take lessons when teachers could be found. She felt the number would actually be higher, judging from past experience, when organized instruction began, as last year's registration at the beginning of the year was over 70 pupils.

Mr. Torgenrud, school superintendent, who was present at the invitation of the committee, suggested that the efforts of this committee should be made known and students should be informed as to what opportunities are presently available for instruction.

Mrs. Joncas recommended that interested students should contact Mrs. Turgeon, Mrs. L. Wolstenholme, Miss Clara Senetza or Miss Lynn Breau. The two latter young ladies are attending High School but might be in a position to given instruction to a limited number of pupils.

Asks Banking Experts Solve Unemployment

This week, T. W. Pue calls upon Canada's banking experts to come up with a solution to Canada's perennial problem—mass unemployment. Mr. Pue suggests the method could well be a change in our monetary policies if necessary. A realistic answer to the problem could serve as an example to the whole world. See page 5 in Alberta Country Life.

Lac La Biche Council Approves Installation Of Alarm System

LAC LA BICHE — At the Oct. 11 meeting of town council, the secretary was instructed to prepare a by-law requiring anyone undertaking any excavating within the town to give 48 hours notice to the secretary. The purpose of the by-law is to safeguard the town against anyone ripping up gas lines.

Correspondence from the Alberta Government Telephones was read concerning an alarm system to be installed in co-operation with the telephone office, which will give warning if the pressure in the town's gas mains should drop below a certain fixed minimum. Approval was given to the installation on the terms suggested, and some of the details are yet to be worked out by the gas management.

An application for a building permit for a dwelling to be built in the south part of the town, an estimated cost of $4,000, was approved.

The rental chargeable for trailers occupying the newly prepared trailer parking area was set at $20 per month, which will include water and sewer service.

A letter of resignation from the town chief of police was received and accepted. Mr. Yablonsky stated that his reasons for resigning were personal and he did not care to disclose them.

General accounts totalling $8,032 and gas system accounts totalling $628 were passed for payment. All the councillors and the mayor and secretary were present at the meeting.

Lac la Biche Huskies Defeat Athabasca Football Team 8-0

On Wednesday, Oct. 4 the Lac la Biche Huskies were hosts to the Athabasca High School football team. The game was a rough and rugged encounter; however good sportsmanship was once more displayed by these two schools.

The Huskies scored early in the game as Dobson punted deep into the Athabasca zone for a single point. After several exchanges, Dobson punted another single to make the score read 2-0.

With five minutes remaining in the first half, the Huskies started the march toward their major score from the Athabasca 45 yard line. The march ended when the left half back, Bereza, took a handoff and darted 10 yards straight up the centre for a touchdown. The convert attempt was blocked.

Throughout the second half both teams waged a tough defensive battle. No points were scored in the second half, hence the game ended with the score reading 8-0 in favor of the Huskies.

Lobay, fleet Huskie right half back, was the leading ground gainer of the game with a net gain of 120 yards. Loiselle, the swift Athabasca back, rated a good second in this units for both teams were the main department. However, the defensive topics of the game with the Huskies, Hadduk and Athabasca's McQuaig leading the way. The Lac la Biche cheerleaders provided good support for their team and must certainly be commended for their display.

Grade Six Holds Annual Raffle

LAC LA BICHE — Mrs. Mastaler's Grade 6 room held its annual raffle on Friday of last week. The draws were made by Joyce Desparlais. First prize of $10 was won by Brain Woynarowich; 2nd prize, $5 went to Mrs. Bahige Fyith and 3rd, of $3 was won by Mrs. M. Perron.

The funds raised by the raffle will be used to meet expenses of the class parties held on special occasions such as Hallowe'en and Christmas and to buy games to be used at noon hour. It is also planned to purchase a couple of good records also.

The teacher and pupils wish to thank all those who helped in this project.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:

In the Saturday, October 14 issue of the Lac la Biche Herald, I find on front page "A Letter to the Editor" by Henry T. Thompson. It would appear that Mr. Thompson wrote it in great haste and unlike himself it would again appear he did not have all the facts at the time of writing.

That a member of the present Council wished to contest my seat is his right and his privilege. However, the least he could have done was to make his wishes known and as Councillor I am sure he must have been aware of the provisions of the Town and Village Act. It may here prove interesting for Mr. Thompson to know that for three consecutive meetings prior to nomination date I made it a point at each of these meetings to remind both Council and those ratepayers present, as to the date and time of nominations.

I am wondering if Mr. Thompson saw the petition? I believe that he will find that the petition does not protest any situation but respectfully requests a postponement of nomination date, and honestly, if such a petition could have resulted in a contest, I would have signed it myself.

Mr. Thompson refers to inertia to public affairs . . . I wonder . . . How many Council meetings has he ever attended during the past two years?

Did he bother to ascertain from the secretary what action had been taken on receipt of the petition in question?

Does he realize that the secretary took it upon himself to phone the municipal authorities in Edmonton to advise him in this respect?

Is Mr. Thompson aware of the fact that the secretary or returning officer in a civic election as in all other municipal matters pertaining to Council and Town affairs must abide by the regulations set down in the Town and Village Act?

Is he aware of the fact that the Act does not permit even the minister or the Cabinet to change the nomination date?

Does Mr. Thompson appreciate the fact that this petition was not handed to the secretary until the very date of nomination?

Mr. Thompson's implication that "Secretary Creighton refused to take action" is unfair and unjust to an employee of our town who carried out his duties as required by the provisions of the Town and Village Act.

And finally Mr. Thompson . . . where . . . in the realm of reason do politics enter into this picture??

Alberta Farmers Vital To New Army Survival Training Course

By KEN LARSON

Farmers in northern Alberta will play a vital role in the No. 3 Alberta National Survival Training Unit, which will have its headquarters in Edmonton. Four six week courses will begin Nov. 6 and over 1,700 persons from farming communities are expected to enlist.

Farmers, because of their location away from key target centres such as Edmonton, and because of their better physical assets, would be welcomed in the training scheme, Brigadier R. A. Bradburn stated at a press conference. Brig. Bradburn is commander of the 23rd militia group in northern Alberta, and would become zone commander in the event of an attack.

Farmers with fall chores completed will be among those who would welcome the $240 offered in the program recommended by Hon. Douglas Harkness, minister of defence for Canada. Training centres are Edmonton, Grande Prairie, Dawson Creek, Vermilion and Wetaskiwin. In the province, 8,000 can be trained during the six week course. Of these, 3,200 will be enrolled in northern Alberta.

Enrolment has begun at country centres during the period between 7 and 10 o'clock each evening. Those from points outside Edmonton can register between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. weekdays, and 8 a.m. and 2 p.m. Saturdays at the Prince of Wales Armouries (GA 2-6561).

The course includes provision of a uniform and offers training in all phases of rescue, first aid, fire fighting, traffic control, and what to do in the event of a nuclear attack generally, as well as precautions regarding fallout.

However, trainees between the ages of 18 and 50 inclusive, will not be on call in a time of emergency, unless they have agreed to regular militia training after the course, or else have placed their names on the "supplementary reserve" list. Anyone wishing to be discharged from the unit, may do so, and will not be called in event of war. Brig. Bradburn feels that people who have had this training are likely to be more than willing to help should an emergency arise. Emergencies can include civil disasters.

The Canadian Army is hoping 100,000 citizens will respond in Canada for nuclear survival training. Twenty-five thousand letters have gone out to employers, outlining the program. It is hoped business firms will grant employees time off to take the intensive training. Some industries have signified their willingness to make up the difference between pay offered by the army and the employee's regular salary, although this is up to each employer.

In areas such as Vegreville where training classes will be held at Vermilion, or Stony Plain where enrolment is for Edmonton, car pools would likely be organized among trainees, but in any event, the army will see that participants have transportation of some sort.

People who have had civil defence training will be more than welcome because of their past experience in survival techniques which will benefit them materially.

There are now 1,600 in northern Alberta's militia group, states Brig. Bradburn, and these persons are capable of handling 50 men each. There is no doubt that those trained in the course will be able to supervise 10 persons in an emergency. This provides a nucleus of 5,000 persons in the northern section of the province who would be able to guide at least 50,000 others in rescue operations.

National survival training is like fire insurance, he said. You hope you never need it, but if something happens, it's good to know you are ready. He said the threat of war is very real. Now is the time to prepare.

Search For Hunter Proves Unavailing

LAC LA BICHE — The intensive search for Zigmond Mowicki, 25, who disappeared in dense bush country Oct. 1, has been futile so far.

Policemen and more than 100 volunteers and a helicopter have been searching a maze of rivers, streams, gullies, rock ridges and bush near Uranium City for the missing man.

The search is being centred near the abandoned Beta Gamma Mine site near the Saskatchewan town where Nowicki is reported to have gone on a hunting trip with a .22 calibre rifle.

Nowicki, whose parents live 18 miles southwest of Lac la Biche, has worked in Uranium City for the last four years and has been a bus driver for the last year.

Search operations have been hampered by a six-inch snowfall which fell in the region last week.

Shower Honors Darlene Scott

LAC LA BICHE — Miss Darlene Scott was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower held in the St. Catherines Rectory, Oct. 3. The room was prettily decorated in pink and white with bouquets of sweet peas on the guest table. Assisting Darlene to open and display the many beautiful gifts were Cecille Rudiger, Aileen Scott and Mary Manca.

Miss Scott's marriage to Mr. John Buchanan took place in the St. Catherine's RC Church October 7.

Hylo Huntresses Brave Snowstorm

During the recent snowstorm, while the men lay snugly in bed, Mrs. O. Peven and Mrs. McEachern sallied forth to bag a few ducks.

When asked, the ladies described their experience: "It was like a winter wonderland. Quiet, soft snow flakes made a perfect camouflage to bag the limit from the multitude of ducks flying overhead."

Many grouse and partridge have fallen to these two crack shots.

The ladies go on to say, "Hunting is nothing new to us. We have both hunted for many years and this year we decided to give the males some competition."

Alberta Women's Institutes

By Mrs. P. S. Kozdrowski

District home economists are often invited to Womens Institutes meetings to speak on and assist with homemakers problems.

Springvale and Leslieville members gained much information from Miss Esther Dumont's talk on preserving by the freezing method and at the Angus Ridge meeting Miss Doreen Evans spoke on freezing foods. Miss Evans gave an interesting talk on salad making, comes report from the Malmo members. Falun members were anxious to learn about home-made mixes, and Miss Evans complied by giving them a demonstration and recipes. The Ridgewood members had Miss Dumont speak on "Cooking with Frozen Foods".

At the Ohaton and the Argyle meetings Miss Kathleen Carney informed the members on the art of well planned homes. Wheatsheaf and Veteran Institutes invited Mrs. H. B. Moore to speak on "Credit and Cash Buying", and at Fawcett Mrs. B. McCutcheon spoke on "Buymanship". Miss Shirley Meyers addressed the Nampa meeting using as her topic "Consumer Protection", while at the Ferrybank meeting Miss A. Shore's talk was entitled "Buyer Beware". Miss E. Bartman attended a number of meetings where she spoke on good design and some of the institutes she visited were Sundial, Lethbridge and Kinniburgh. Hillsdown members showed keen interest in Miss Dumont's talk on interior decorating. To illustrate her points she showed samples of floor covering and draperies.

Very often members of the organization give inteersting talks related to the homemakers' needs. At Millet Mrs. T. H. Howes' talk dealt with credit buying, and at Warspite Mrs. James Melnyk's talk was entitled "Buy by the Grade". Wild Rose members heard Mrs. R. E. Hodgkinson speak on "How to Buy Wisely". At Peace River Mrs. R. Pinkney's talk dealt with the new trends in household economics. At Fritzhill Mrs. Howard Muhlbach spoke on making housekeeping easy. At the Battersea meeting Mrs. W. T. Shaw gave many household hints and shortcuts, while both members report having enjoyed Mrs. A. Penosky's talk on "What a Wife Means to a Husband Financially". Pope Lease members heard Miss Carol Ann Fraser speak on the care of wash and wear and non-wash and wear fabrics, while at the Mountain View meeting Mrs. W. E. Scheidt informed the members how to remove stains from wash and wear fabrics.

The work and the aims of the CAC were discussed at the Hillsdown and the Hillsdown Valley meetings by Mrs. A. Brock, and at the Burnt Lake meeting by Mrs. B. B. Gillette.

Red Deer members watched with interest while Mrs. J. Morris demonstrated how she makes puff pastry, and at the Trgyle meeting Mrs. A. Dahl showed the members how she makes angel food cakes that have taken many red ribbons. At Minburn Mrs. H. Rustad's talk on salads, spices and food rules made an interesting topic for discussion. At the Sundial meeting Mrs. R. Tyo instructed the members on how a dress form can be made. The Angus Ridge members enjoyed their last meeting where Mrs. Gordon Haugen gave a demonstration on make-up application, using as her models, Mrs. E. Runte and Mrs. R. Recknagle.

Anglican Church Youth Convention At Grande Prairie

McMURRAY — Fredricka Bird and Bob Driver travelled to Grande Prairie to attend an Anglican Church youth convention which lasted from Saturday, Oct. 7 to 9 inclusive.

Young people from all over northern Alberta attended. The organizer was the Reverend Allen Bush, B.A., L. Th., rector of Grande Prairie.

The main matter under discussion was that of prayers.

A banquet and dance and tour of the surrounding countryside were also included on the recreational side.

All the many young people there were happy to meet the Right Rev. R. J. Pierce, Bishop of the Diocese of Athabasca who flew direct to Grande Prairie from Ottawa where he had been at a high level church council, in order to spend some time with the young Anglicans of his diocese.

On Sunday, October 8th at St. Aiden's Anglican Church Waterways, the Rev. Peter Harris installed the following ladies in the newly-formed Altar Guild of that church: Mrs. Abe Mitchell, Mrs. E. J. Plamondon, Mrs. S. E. Brooks and Mrs. Peter Tolen.

A branch of the Junior Auxiliary to the Anglican Church in Waterways was formed at the home of Mrs. Fern Brooks on Thursday, Oct. 12, when a group of enthusiastic young girls aged between 7 and 11 joined in an opening service conducted by the Rev. Peter Harris and listened while he explained the aims of the group which is part of a world-wide organization.

Mrs. Fern Brooks of Waterways is to be their leader and until further notice meetings will be held in her house at 4 p.m. each Thursday afternoon.

Teen Orchestra Makes Debut At McMurray

A teen orchestra in McMurray had great success at the teenage dance held at the McMurray Legion Hall. The orchestra, consisting of Bobby Driver, drummer; Billy Waniandy, guitar; Joe Hamlin, guitar; Ronald Lawrence, guitar, and Roger Zayezeirski, accordion, supplied rock 'n' roll, waltzes, polkas and other varieties of tunes throughout the complete evening.

The teenagers, about 70 to 80 strong invaded the Legion Hall to have perfect evening of dancing, games and singing.

Lunch was served by the girls.

Chaperones Mr. and Mrs. Hector Demers and Ed Woroshelo probably enjoyyed themselves more than the teeners did.

Many parents and adults in town are giving enthusiastic support to the teen club and many have volunteered to chaperone any time that they may be asked.

The next teenage dance will be held on the 31st of October at the McMurray Show Hall. This is an open masquerade dance for the general public, sponsored by the club. The teeners invite all the public to come and support their club.

The club's own teen orchesttra will supply the music.

Most family men know that this is the time of year when their better halves require new outfits.

Della Kureluk, Vilna Girl, Winner Of Trip To New York

A prize-winning double-knit wool jersey suit, skilfully sewn by Delia Kureluk, 17, of Vilna School, has won a glamorous five-day New York trip for Delia and her mother, in late October.

This attractive red jersey suit, combined with a colorful cotton overblouse, was one of 50,000 entries in this year's Singer Young Stylemaker contest. Following local, regional and New York judgings for sewing and style expertness, the field has been narrowed to 15 garments, stitched by three Canadian and 12 American teenage sew-it-yourself advocates.

While in New York, Delia and her mother will be guests of the Singer Sewing Machine Company and treated to a whirlwind, all-expense paid trip to sight-seeing, theatre-going and press and TV interviews. Delia will model her suit at a grand finale fashion show and be awarded $600 should she top her category, in the 14 to 17 age group, and will also win a one-week tour of historic United States points for herself and her parents.

To date, the Young Stylemaker contest prizes won by this busy teen have included a fitted sewing case and a slant-o-matic special sewing machine, as well as the New York trip for herself and her mother.

Lamont Student Nurses Initiated

LAMONT — The student nurses of class 1964 with 23 members were initiated by their "big sisters", class '62 with 15 members. So some big sisters have two sisters.

They dressed in jeans with old shoes, stockings and blouses on back to front. A blouse was stolen from "Miss Combes" which caused a lot of trouble.

Then they visited homes of the clinic members. Dr. Dobson made the nurses help put up a wire mesh on the pigeon house. Dr. Sunley made them blow out eggs.

They then returned to the home of Mrs. Townsend where lunch and games were enjoyed before returning to the "home."

Redwater Juniors Down Radway 13-0

REDWATER — The Junior High School football team played host to Radway Junior High on Sept. 22. This was the first game of the season and was played on the Redwater School football field.

The Redwater Juniors appear to be off to a roaring start after their 13-0 victory over Radway, last season's county champs.

Redwaters opening kickoff had Radway receiving the ball on their own ten yard line. Within minutes Redwater scored after intercepting Radway's first pass. George Chalmers attempted a convert for Robert Lambert's touchdown, but it was blocked ending the score for the first quarter. After missing the convert Redwater kicked for a single point in the second quarter, bringing the score seven to zero at half time.

During the third quarter Bob Walker completed a fine end zone pass to Jim Donalds for Redwater's last major. George Chalmers convert was once again blocked. There was no scoring in the concluding quarter.

Three times during the game Radway was on Redwater's five yard line, threatening to score. Radway put up a fine battle but lacked the spark which made them champions last season.

Orest Swiripa Joins Regina Pats

MYRNAM — Orest Swiripa, 17, of Myrnam, has been accepted by the Regina Pats to guard their nets for the oncoming hockey season. He was the only member from a number of players from the St. Paul Canadians to make the junior Pats this year.

Orest will also be taking his final year of high school while in Regina.

Orest has four brothers and one sister. His oldest brother Fred, is enrolled in his third year of engineering at the University of Alberta.

You cannot expect success if it depends upon the failure of others.

Nina Holden, Esquimalt, B.C., who placed second in the Miss Canada contest two months ago, became the new Miss Canada when Connie-Gail Feller was removed from the beauty queen's throne. Connie-Gail was removed because she "failed to abide by the rules and regulations of the pageant as set down in a signed contract," said Dr. Allan Hollinrake, president of the Miss Canada Pageant. Nina, above, is greeted by last year's Miss Canada, Iris Thurlwell.

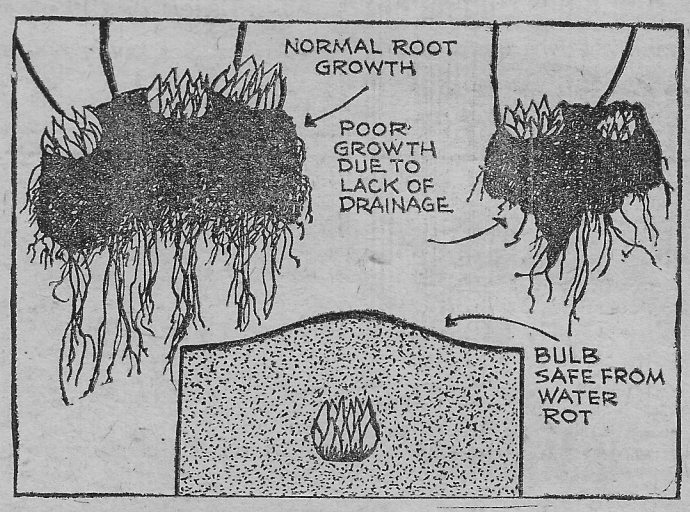
Garden Graph

By DEAN HALLIDAY



Plant Lilies in the Fall

Fall is the planting time for lilies. No particular preparation of the soil is necessary if the ground is fertile, friable and well drained. All that is necessary is to dig a hole and plant the bulb.

While lilies like moisture, they will not tolerate wet feet. No lily will thrive with its feet in water, not even the swamp lilies, which are always found growing above water level.

The effect of proper drainage and poor drainage on the roots of lilies is shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

If the drainage is not perfect where you plan to plant lilies, dig down about two feet and put in a base of gravel or coarse sand.

Experienced gardeners make the surface where lilies are planted higher than the surrounding ground, as shown. When the surface is somewhat mounded, it will shed water. If a depression is left in the soil above the bulb, the water may seep down and rot it.

In gardens where the soil is inclinded to be wet, some gardeners plant lily bulbs on inverted flower pots. If you should wish to do so, first dig a deep hole (about 16 inches), partly fill it with coarse sand and push the inverted flower pot into the sand. Next place a thin layer of sand over the bottom of the pot and place the bulb upon it and cover with soil.

Patricia Lynkowski Invited To Appear On Talent Program

Miss Patricia Lynkowski, all-round winner of the A.C.T.-CFRN Search for Talent Shows last year, has been invited to appear as a guest star on the Search for Talent Show to be held at Myrnam on Saturday, October 28, according to Nestor Chanasyk, of the Myrnam Elks Lodge.

The Elks have undertaken the sponsorship of Search for Talent and will play hosts to the Associated Canadian Travellers on the 28th. The local group, as hosts, are in charge of the advance sales of tickets on the Watch Award, and are attending to many other details prior to showtime.

A maximum of 20 entries are expected to compete in the first step towards the Sunwapta Scholarship. Their performances will be supplemented by Spotlight Parade under the direction of Jack Benbow. Spotlight Parade has talent on a new and fresher look this year and will feature several of Edmonton's most versatile performers, including Johnny Kerr, Johnny Forrest, Molly Kvittem, Maureen McGrath and George Lund. Mr. Lund is well known to television viewers as a comedian and announcer on CFRN-TV.

Miss Lynkowski's appearance is an added feature to the shows this season. A former winner of Search for Talent will appear on each show, and Miss Lynkowski is scheduled for appearances at Myrnam and at Mannville.

Miss Lynkowski won the Search for Talent championship and the Sunwapta Scholarship last April. Two weeks later she won the Open Piano Class at the Alberta Musical Festival as well as two additional technique awards. She attended the Banff School of Fine Arts last summer on her scholarship and is now a student of Madam Lesaunier of Edmonton.

Search for Talent will be held at the Myrnam school auditorium on Saturday, Oct. 28, commencing at 7:30 p.m. Mr. Chanasyk is in charge of registrations at Myrnam Hardware.

Anglican Church Youth Convention At Grande Prairie

McMURRAY — Fredricka Bird and Bob Driver travelled to Grande Prairie to attend an Anglican Church youth convention which lasted from Saturday, Oct. 7 to 9 inclusive.

Young people from all over northern Alberta attended. The organizer was the Reverend Allen Bush, B.A., L. Th., rector of Grande Prairie.

The main matter under discussion was that of prayers.

A banquet and dance and tour of the surrounding countryside were also included on the recreational side.

All the many young people there were happy to meet the Right Rev. R. J. Pierce, Bishop of the Diocese of Athabasca who flew direct to Grande Prairie from Ottawa where he had been at a high level church council, in order to spend some time with the young Anglicans of his diocese.

On Sunday, October 8th at St. Aiden's Anglican Church Waterways, the Rev. Peter Harris installed the following ladies in the newly-formed Altar Guild of that church: Mrs. Abe Mitchell, Mrs. E. J. Plamondon, Mrs. S. E. Brooks and Mrs. Peter Tolen.

A branch of the Junior Auxiliary to the Anglican Church in Waterways was formed at the home of Mrs. Fern Brooks on Thursday, Oct. 12, when a group of enthusiastic young girls aged between 7 and 11 joined in an opening service conducted by the Rev. Peter Harris and listened while he explained the aims of the group which is part of a world-wide organization.

Mrs. Fern Brooks of Waterways is to be their leader and until further notice meetings will be held in her house at 4 p.m. each Thursday afternoon.

Teen Orchestra Makes Debut At McMurray

A teen orchestra in McMurray had great success at the teenage dance held at the McMurray Legion Hall. The orchestra, consisting of Bobby Driver, drummer; Billy Wanandy, guitar; Joe Hamlin, guitar; Ronald Lawrence, guitar, and Roger Zayezeirski, accordion, supplied rock 'n' roll, waltzes, polkas and other varieties of tunes throughout the complete evening.

The teenagers, about 70 to 80 strong invaded the Legion Hall to have perfect evening of dancing, games and singing.

Lunch was served by the girls.

Chaperones Mr. and Mrs. Hector Demers and Ed Woroshelo probably enjoyyed themselves more than the teeners did.

Many parents and adults in town are giving enthusiastic support to the teen club and many have volunteered to chaperone any time that they may be asked.

The next teenage dance will be held on the 31st of October at the McMurray Show Hall. This is an open masquerade dance for the general public, sponsored by the club. The teeners invite all the public to come and support their club.

The club's own teen orchesttra will supply the music.

Most family men know that this is the time of year when their better halves require new outfits.

Pleasing Contemporary Styling Makes This Home A Favorite

Pleasing contemporary styling, with clean uncluttered lines across the front would make this home a favorite in any setting, whether it be against the majestic grandeur of British Columbia's mountains, the rolling hills of the Gatineau or the clear blue skies of Alberta.

A big feature with many home builders is the fact that this house can be contained on a 60' lot allowing for 6' sideyards, and this not only includes a garage for the family car, but allows living space for the whole area. This is accomplished by locating the garage under the kitchen area, which, of course, makes it an eminently practical house for the climatic conditions where a carport is not practical.

Bedroom privacy is a very essential part of good house designing and the bedrooms in this house are located across the back completely isolated from the actual living room portion of the house. The living/dining/kitchen are across the front of the house to take advantage of a view site, nook in the kitchen is large enough for the family to dine "en famille," but the dining area is always available for company dining. Planter wall, book shelves, china cabinet, and the fireplace at the end wall of the dining room add to the attractive appsarns of the livroom.

The front of the house shows planters etc and the clean uncluttered lines are enhanced by the locating of the entry to the end of the house, with the brick chimney for the fireplace to help add to the appearance usual space for laundry, recreation room etc. in the basement area.

Designed for NHA approval, with 1256 square foot, a 47' frontage, the working drawings of this "designed-for-Canadians" home are available from the Building Centre, (B.C.) Ltd., 116 F. Broadway, Vancouver, B.C. where you may also obtain a copy of our newest plan book "Select Home Designs" by sending 25c to cover cost of mailing and handling.

MD ATTACKS COLLEAGUES' OBSESSION WITH SECRECY

WINNIPEG — The president of the Canadian Medical Association has called for a change in the "reticence of our profession" to give information to the public.

Dr. G. W. Halpenny, associate professor of medicine at McGill University, told the Manitoba Medical Association that the public has the right to learn from authentic sources all it can about health and disease.

"I believe it is the prerogative and the duty of the medical profession to give authentic medical information to the public," Dr. Halpenny said.

He said doctors have left the public at the mercy of a deluge of unethical advertisements on TV and radio. "All too frequently," he said, "erroneous and sometimes frightening articles on medical subjects are widely circulated in popular magazines. Nor have we taken the time or trouble to denounce the articles.

"I am sure the public would welcome the fund of helpful and reliable information that we could so easily place at their disposal."

Dr. Halpenny also said that if the population expansion continues at the present rate there will be a shortage of doctors in this country.

An immediate increase in the medical school enrolment is necessary, he said, and urged the association to make an organized effort to interest students in entering the medical profession.

"We must opening compete with the other professions for the interest of the student in a medical career.

On hospitals, Dr. Halpenny said that many of today's medical problems are perhaps insoluble within the existing hospital structure.

"With the introduction across Canada of the various hospital insurance plans it is evident that our lack of adequate facilities for convalescent and chronic care has caused a serious shortage for the acutely ill," he said.

Christianity And Communism

By H. E. Carran

H. E. CARRAN

Two contrasting ways of life, Communism, which Dr. Schwarz has so aptly described as "Applied Godless Materialism" and Christianity which, by contrast, could well be called "Applied Divine Wisdom" are struggling for the mastery of the mind of man. Christianity holds the Fortress and Communism is the Challenger. And a most aggressive challenger it is proving to be.

Events show that membership in the United Nations Organization has been of great advantage to Communism, for in it the Godly and the Godless meet on terms of absolute equality. An organization of Christian nations WOULD be good, an organization of Christian and non-Christian nations COULD be good. But an organization of Christian and anti-Christian nations is quite another thing, as sixteen years of trial have shown. So it would be well to heed the advice of General Smuts of South Africa, already quoted "The establishment of U.N.O. and its security system gives a strong ray of hope for the future, but it would be unwise to build our future solely on that hope."

Fortunately there exists an alternative to U.N.O. in our British Commonwealth of free nations, a natural growth, God-made rather than man-made, which has already stood the severe test of two world wars. Without this alternative we would now be facing such chaotic conditions that Communism's ultimate victory would be almost assured.

Should we not then see to it that everything possible is done, through Government, press radio and television, to strengthen our Commonwealth? And perhaps it would be well to correct the false impression that the word "British" means a citizen of the British Isles. As already pointed out, the word really means "the men of the Christian Covenant" and includes all the Christian nations, wherever found.

And since, under the true meaning of the word, the people of the United States of America are just as British as any of us, why should not the U.S.A. become a full member of our Commonwealth? Its people could still remain under a republican form of government, they would remain just as much a free and sovereign state as they now are, nor would they be required to change their way of life or their institutions in the very smallest particular.

Such an event could change the world situation overnight. For, by thus entering into our Commonwealth councils, the United States Government would, in effect, declare to the world that henceforth the United States of America and our Commonwealth would, in the words of Churchill "take common measures for our safety . . . that in the days to come the British and American Peoples will, for their own safety and for the good of all, walk together in majesty, in justice and in peace.

If you hear an ominous grind in the motor or note that an appliance is not working properly, stop using it immediately, inspect it carefully and if necessary, see a service man. Learn where to draw the line between the cleaning, oiling and adjusting you can do yourself and the repairs which require the skill of a mechanic or an electrician. Refer to your warranty. It may assure you of service on new parts if the appliance does not work properly through no fault of your own. The following suggestions may be helpful:

Never force gears, controls or working parts.

Use only recommended types of soaps, detergents, water softeners or bleaches in clothes washers and dishwashers.

Don't overload equipment — overloading causes wear, damage.

Never put electric heating units, cords, or motors in water.

Set all controls according to manufacturer's instructions.

When connecting an electric appliance, plug electric cord into appliance first, then into outlet.

When disconnecting an electric cord, always grasp the plug—don't pull the cord.

Clean enamel finishes with soap, warm water or cleaning compounds specifically designed for this type of surface.

Clean aluminum finishes with aluminum cleanser or fine steel wool. remove discoloration with vinegar or lemon juice and wash well.

Clean stainless steel with soap and water and a mild scouring powder.

Wipe chrome finishes with a damp cloth and dry with a soft towel.

Clean rubber gaskets frequently with mild soap and water.

Wipe spilled goods from enamel surfaces with a paper towel or a damp cloth. Acid foods especially should be removed at once.

Allow hot applicances to cool before storing.

Oil equipment according to manufacturer's instructions.

Always put equipment away clean and ready to use.

Publicity may be an art but there is a lot of artificial publicity.
